This followed the in-house programme, including sweet performances from our young kids, a popular song by Anjan Basu Chowdhury with gifts for the kids, and a sensational dance drama by Subha, Anhiti and Ritayan. This entire in-house programme was anchored by Ahana Basu. This brought in the tea break to prepare for the play Jola O Saat Bhoot by Uhinee, Kolkata. It was a superb play enjoyed by all. After the play was over, the entire audience applauded profusely about the theme of the play and the acting by the entire cast. The show of appreciation was pretty spontaneous. The evening ended at about 8:15 pm.

Many took photographs of the event (See our website) and there was also arrangement for videography. A vcd of the whole programme is under preparation which may be available soon.

The entire programme was made possible by untiring efforts and generous contributions from our members and some sponsors. This report ends with acknowledging all this with thanks and gratitude.
